Dear Families, Students, and Staff,

I hope this letter finds you well. It is also my wish that your friends and loved ones are also doing well. I am writing to inform you that Governor Andrew Cuomo has issued an Executive Order requiring all school districts in New York State to remain open for online instruction during spring recess next week. Reversing my last communication, this letter serves to notify you that Marlboro Schools will continue online instruction next week.

In addition, we will continue our Nutrition Plan, distributing meals to Marlboro families Monday through Friday from 8 AM to 12 PM at the Marlboro High School Snack Shack. We are also continuing our efforts to help connect medical staff, first responders, and other essential workers with childcare services. Please visit our website for additional information about both the Nutrition Program and the Childcare Program.

Please continue to stay connected with your teachers online and through email. They are working hard to provide quality work for students.

Sincerely,

Michael Brooks

Superintendent of Schools
